

Deliberate cruelty : Truman Capote, the millionaire's wife, and the murder of the century

by Roseanne Montillo

Describes how author Truman Capote became obsessed with the true crime story of a Manhattan socialite who shot her banking heir husband in 1955, and discusses how publication of his book led to her suicide and his own scandalous downfall.

I know who you are : how an amateur DNA sleuth unmasked the Golden State Killer and changed crime fighting forever

by Barbara Rae-Venter

A retiree researching her family history explains how she used her knowledge of DNA data to uncover the culprit of the Golden State Killer crime spree, a cold case that had baffled law enforcement for decades.

American demon : Eliot Ness and the hunt for America's Jack the Ripper

by Daniel Stashower

Shines a fresh light on one of the most notorious puzzles in the annals of crime, and uncovers the gripping story of Ness's hunt for a sadistic killer who was as brilliant as he was cool and composed, a mastermind who was able to hide in plain sight.

I am a killer : what makes a murderer : their shocking stories in their own words

by Danny Tipping

A book based on the successful Netflix documentary provides a detailed look at 10 compelling murder cases and interviews the families of the perpetrators and the victims to paint a disturbing portrait of what causes someone to kill.

Pewaukee Public Library

210 Main Street
Pewaukee, Wisconsin 53072
262-691-5670

<https://www.pewaukeelibrary.org/>

True Crime

The woman who stole Vermeer : the true story of Rose Dugdale and the Russborough House art theft

by Anthony M. Amore

This riveting novel documents the extraordinary life and crimes of the heiress-turn-revolutionary who, in 1974, became the only woman to pull off a major art heist.

While Idaho slept : the hunt for answers in the murders of four college students

by J. Reuben Appelman

In this thought-provoking, literary chronicle of a small-town murder investigation, the author recounts the brutal killings of four University of Idaho students, exploring our societal fascination with true crime, the media's involvement and the future of homicide investigations as he humanizes the four victims, examining the richness of their lives.

We keep the dead close : a murder at Harvard and a half century of silence

by Becky Cooper

Documents the unsolved 1969 murder of Harvard student Jane Britton, sharing insights into how the case was clouded by false rumors and the realities of gender inequality and institutional silence in period academic circles.

The third rainbow girl

by Emma Copley Eisenberg

An investigation into the 1980 murder of two women in Pocahontas County, West Virginia, recreates the events of the tragedy, the targeting of vulnerable suspects and the history of mysterious violence that continues to overshadow the region.

The art thief : a true story of love, crime, and a dangerous obsession

by Michael Finkel

This riveting true story of art, crime, love and an insatiable hunger to possess beauty at any cost draws us into the strange and fascinating world of art thief Stéphane Breitwieser, who stole and kept more than 300 objects until a final act of hubris brought everything crashing down.

Dancing with the octopus : a memoir of a crime

by Debora Harding

Traces the author's remarkable counterintuitive healing journey in the aftermath of trauma, relating how she survived a violent abduction only to endure her family's denial, an abandonment that compelled her to learn her imprisoned attacker's story.

Unmasked : my life solving America's cold cases

by Paul Holes

An icon in the true crime world, the cold case investigator who finally caught the Golden State Killer provides an insider account of some the most notorious cases in contemporary American history and opens up to the most intimate scenes of his life.

Guilty admissions : the bribes, favors, and phonies behind the college cheating scandal

by Nicole Laporte

An exposé of the Varsity Blues scandal reveals how an unscrupulous college counselor named Rick Singer preyed on the desperation of wealthy, upper class, insecure parents who sought to have their children admitted to elite colleges to maintain their own social status.

Two truths and a lie : a murder, a private investigator, and her search for justice

by Ellen McGarrah

An investigative reporter-turned-private detective describes the brutal state execution of a possibly innocent man that haunted her career, her decision to reopen the case and the complex web of crime and corruption that her investigation exposed.

Hell in the heartland : murder, meth, and the case of two missing girls

by Jax Miller

The award-winning author of "Freedom's Child" describes how her investigation into the 1999 unsolved disappearance of two teens from rural Oklahoma unearthed shocking links to police corruption, regional meth addiction and an ominous pattern of murders.